

The difference between relief and cure

All Physics Don't Cure. When a physic is needed, anything that will cleanse the bowels will relieve, but that does not necessarily mean that such treatment will cure. Nearly all purgative waters, candied pellets and sugar coated pills will give temporary relief, but usually at a great cost to the health of the patients.

Such preparations weaken the muscles of the stomach so much that it soon becomes necessary for the patient to take a physic before he can have a proper bowel movement.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

does not act upon the bowels like most laxatives and cathartics. It contains such wonderful tonic properties that it soon strengthens even the weakest stomach, so it can properly and voluntarily perform its functions.

It is pleasant to take and never causes griping or pains of any sort.

Free sample bottle will be sent upon receipt of postal card request to those who have never tried it.

All druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at 50c and $1.00 a bottle.

Money back if it doesn't satisfy.

American Beauty to Marry Title.

Ardmoreite Special.
Paris, June 29.—Another American girl is to marry a title. Miss Italia Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey J. Blair of Chicago, is the fortunate—or otherwise—young woman, and tomorrow will become the bride of the Marquis de Ricardo Soriano de Ibarra, a Spanish nobleman. The ceremony will be performed in the Spanish chapel in Paris, and after a brief tour the marquis and his bride will take up their residence in Madrid.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of the Marquis de Ibarra, one of the hereditary senators of Spain, and is the owner of a handsome palace in the Spanish capital. Miss Blair has a considerable fortune in her own right. She made her debut in Chicago three years ago and many of her relatives and close friends from that city are here for the wedding.

Abolish Second Class Fares.

Ardmoreite Special.
Chicago, June 29.—As a result of two-cent fare laws by numerous states the railroads of this section will retaliate by abolishing second class passenger rates after today. The order affects all traffic to and from Pittsburgh, between all points in Central Passenger association territory, and through its connecting gateways.

With the two-cent fare in force between Pittsburgh and Chicago, the first class rate will be practically the same as the second class rate heretofore prevailing.

May Wed in London.

Ardmoreite Special.

Paris, June 29.—American friends of Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, who arrived in Paris this week to join his fiancée, Miss Katherine Eddy of Chicago, and her mother, are responsible for the assertion that the famous statesman will be married within the next two weeks. According to reports, the wedding will be a quiet one and will take place in London, as the red tape of the French laws makes it difficult for Americans to be married in this country.

OKLAHOMA QUALIFICATIONS ROOSEVELT OR CONGRESS?

Guthrie, Okla., June 29.—If the legal point raised by Attorney General Bonaparte, in considering the Oklahoma constitution, involving the authority of congress to delegate the execution of it constitutional power to the president is sustained, the new state may, after all, have to become a supplicant at the door of congress in order to secure a seat in the federal union. Under the circumstances congress would become the sole judge of Oklahoma's qualifications and accept it or not as she chose.

The question arises from that grant of exclusive power in the federal constitution saying congress may admit new states, necessarily carrying with it the duty, in this case, of determining whether the enabling act has been complied with, and that the constitution is republican in form. It is doubtful, so expressed in the law office in Washington, whether this function, which is construed to be legislative, can, with legal effect, be exercised by the executive branch of the government, and while Mr. Bonaparte, who voluntarily brought the subject up with the convention's deliberation in Washington several weeks ago, had not then reached a conclusion, there was strong belief that congress in this particular had erred.

Five states have been brought into the union by proclamation of the president acting under enabling acts, after all of which the Oklahoma act was mainly fashioned, and in those instances the executive, from wording of proclamations, was the sole judge as to whether the constitution met the requirements.

Democrats interested in the Oklahoma situation are waiting to see how closely the law office will follow the precedent in making its recommendations to the president.

The president, whose duty is believed to be only ministerial, is quoted as favoring Oklahoma's admission, notwithstanding the broad statement frequently made that he would "turn the constitution down." By ordering a caucus of the two territories for the purpose of fixing the population, it is demonstrated Washington proposes to accept no one's word as to conditions here, but will secure evidence from agents specially detailed in the field. There is, however, a political condition presented which might make it desirable not to have Oklahoma in

A CITY OF PROMISE

AN OPINION OF A TRAVELING SALESMAN WHO REGULARLY VISITS ARDMORE.

"Ardmore is developing and growing with greater rapidity than any other city in the state, and as great as any other city in the Southwest." was the remark made by John T. Hanon, a traveling salesman for a Kansas City house here Saturday.

Mr. Hanon usually visits Ardmore about one month making trips to the surrounding smaller towns. He was here about three months ago, and when he returned this time and saw the paving work in progress and the change in the appearance of Main street, expressed greater surprise.

When seen and asked as to what he thought of the future of Ardmore, he said: "Every time I leave here and return I note a greater improvement in the city. It is either several new buildings in the course of construction, or more paving of the streets going on. I understand that you are about to have natural gas in your city, and I want to say right now, when the natural gas is piped in here, you will have people clamoring to come in, and it will not take a great deal of persuasion to bring manufacturing establishments here."

"I hear a great many inquiries on the road from people who want to locate in this section of the country, and I always tell them of Ardmore. You have a promising city, with bright prospects."

GOOD JOB VACANT

ATTORNEYSHIP OF CHICKASAW AND CHOCTAW NATIONS IS VACANT

From present indications the position of attorney for the Chickasaw and Choctaw nations which is at present vacant, will not be filled since the contract between these nations and the law firm of Mansfield, McMurphy & Cornish of McAlester, was terminated by limitation the Indians have not appointed any attorneys. Neither has there been any applications for this job. The position is vacant for year, and it is somewhat of a puzzle that there has been no application for the position.

There are several firms who are well equipped for managing these affairs and who are well versed with the laws of the nations. That this position will go long without an attorney is a matter of course.
